Dormition Church, Psari

The Church of the Dormition of the Virgin is the parish church of Psari, a mountain village near Lake Stymphalia lying above 800 metres. At the heart of local life, it celebrates its feast on 15 August, drawing residents and visitors to a district long known for its vineyards, currants and wine. The green upland scenery all around invites gentle walks and a taste of traditional Corinthian village life, well off the usual tourist trail.
